

GUESTS EXPERIENCE PERSONALIZED LIVING AT THE AMBASSADOR GARDENS' JAMIESON PLACE IN PASADENA

More than 100 Guests Attend Successful Designer Showcase Home Event

PASADENA, Calif.— Insignia, City Ventures unveiled the new Designer Showcase Home at Jamieson Place, the final enclave of homes at The Ambassador Gardens in Pasadena on March 19. The premiere event took place in conjunction with the recent release of the final collection of homes at Jamieson Place North, now selling from the mid $ 2 millions. A second event was added due to the success of the first grand opening, which had four reservations for the limited collection of homes. The next event will take place on Saturday, March 26 and will be shown through March 29 .

Since opening three years ago, Ambassador Gardens has sold 51 homes totaling approximately $100 million and representing more than half of the homes at Jamieson Place, a popular collection of 39 residences. This last phase follows the incredible sales success of the first residences at Ambassador Garden known as The Bungalows and The Grove.

Jamieson Place is a limited collection of townhomes and flats that combine formal compositions with luxury amenities. The historic Pasadena garden setting is conveniently located along the renowned South Orange Boulevard and is surrounded by estate gardens dating back to the early 1900s. The Ambassador Gardens features a classic pool, historic mansions, walking paths and benches bordered by 100-year-old jacaranda trees, roses and Mediterranean Cypress trees that line the community entry.

The ability to personalize a home from the beginning to end is at the core of The Ambassador Gardens' homebuyer experience with The Studio by Insignia, a design gallery located at the sales gallery. Insignia offers a complete design service that allows each buyer to create a semi-custom home with a unique partnership with Barclay Butera Interiors, renowned for his approachable elegance and glamorous, West-Coast-chic interiors. A number of options are available when buyers visit The Studio, a design gallery located on The Ambassador Gardens property.
